F 129
.S3 S78
Copy 1

Saratoga Springs -

Souvenir.

Class F124

Book .S3 S78

Saratoga Springs

Souvenir

F127
.S378

LIBRARY of CONGRESS
Two Copies Received
JUN 22 1906
Copyright Entry
May 16, 1906
CLASS A XXc. No.
14998
COPY B.

Souvenir of Saratoga Springs

THIS is the camera's story of Saratoga Springs—a tale fascinating to the eye of the one who longs for the glint of emerald lawns, the cool retreat of elm-shaded lanes, the quiet seclusion of shadowy verandas, the healing balm of flowing waters, the zest of life's elixir blowing from the pine-clad Adirondack hills. It is the chronicle of the ideal summer life lived near to the secrets of Nature's healing and yet amid the comforts and luxuries of the crowded haunts of men.

But however sensitive the plate, however quick the shattered eye, the pictured story is not all. There is more to Saratoga's claim to pre-eminence as the resort of all resorts. It offers health and rest and recreation within the reach of every purse. Its hotels surpass in scope and luxury those of all resorts. Its boarding houses offer comforts of unequalled excellence and of modest tariff. Its myriad springs afford relief to countless ills. Hundreds of enticing cottages are at the command of the summer renter, completely furnished. Miles of shaded and macadamed drives are open to the horse or auto. Secluded country by-ways tempt the pedestrian to walks a-field. To the lover of the saddled thoroughbred the Saratoga Association offers the finest racing on the American turf. The fancier of the harness horse has at service a splendid Speedway. The devotee of other outdoor sports will find polo field, golf ground and tennis courts always at command and in the perfection of attractiveness and order.

As a convention meeting place Saratoga's fame is nation-wide. Its splendid Convention Hall is within stone's throw of limitless hotel accommodation and its facilities for handling convention crowds have never been overtaxed.

Saratoga's business is that of entertainer to the world. To that end it has provided a public water supply of absolute purity. It has a sewerage system surpassed by no city in the land. It furnishes the most adequate fire protection to its dwellers. Gifted by Nature with advantages unknown elsewhere, Saratoga has added every artificial means of comfort and attraction the most exacting guest may ask

And Saratoga is near at hand—within arm's reach by rail of the great cities of the land, on lines that run South and North and East and West. Over these it is easy to come—and hard to go—for the charm of Saratoga grows strongest with those who know it best.

Copyrighted, 1905, by The Saratogian

Grand Union Orchestra of 60 Pieces.

Grand Union Hotel on an August Day.

Showing the United States Hotel on the Division Street side.

View of Broadway from the United States Hotel front porch.

Shrine at St. Clement's College.

The Congress Hall on a Summer Morning.

The Washburne, on Washington Street.

The Windsor Hotel, or the top of the Clarendon Hill.

Washington Hall, the old Colonial House on North Broadway.

The Kensington Hotel on Union Avenue.

The Carlsbad, on Franklin Square.

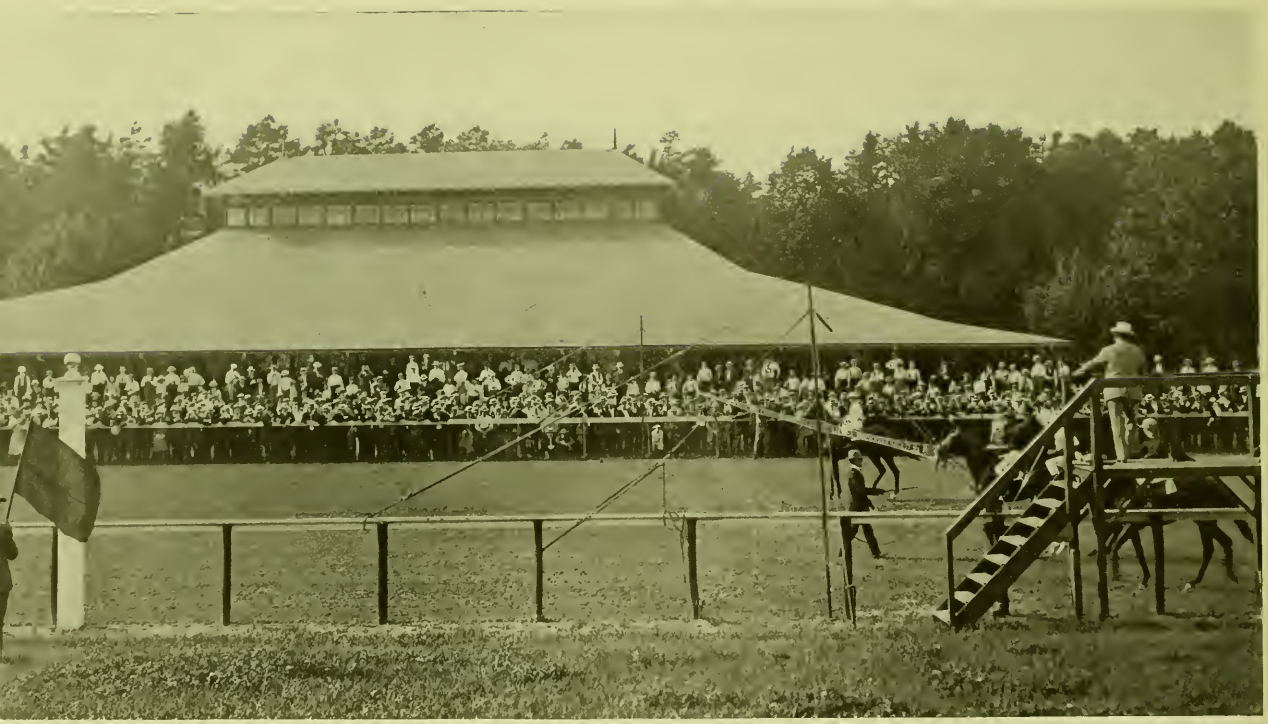
The American-Adelphi Hotel on Broadway.

The Huestis House, South Broadway.

The Worden Hotel, Broadway and Division Street.

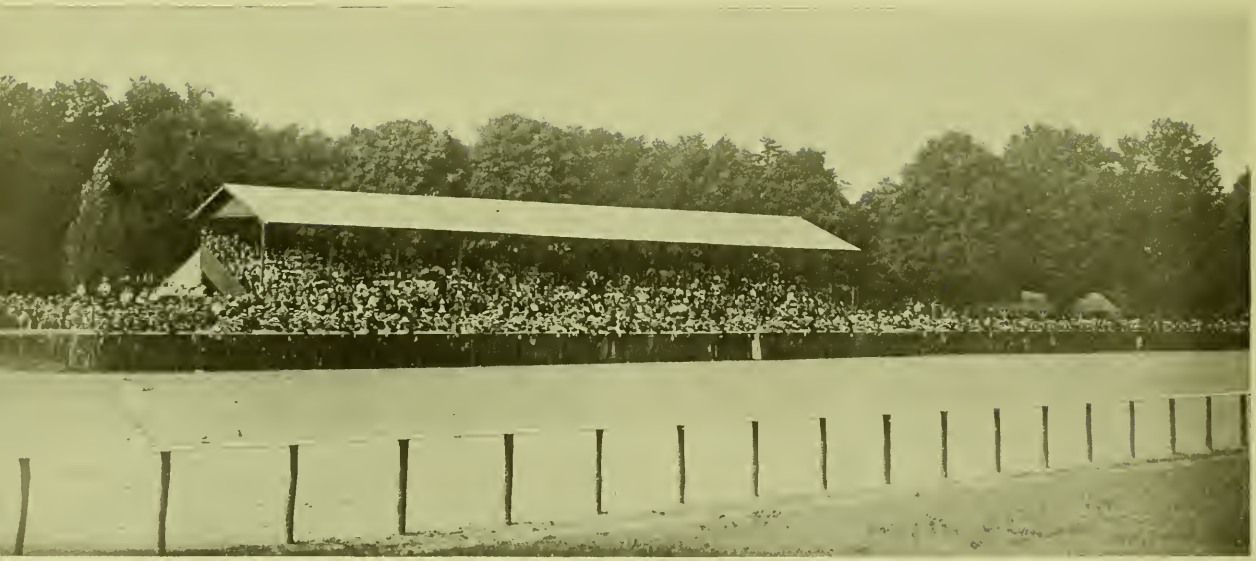
The Adirondack Lodge on Franklin Square.

The Field of Saratoga Polo Club Albany and Saratoga Teams Playing.



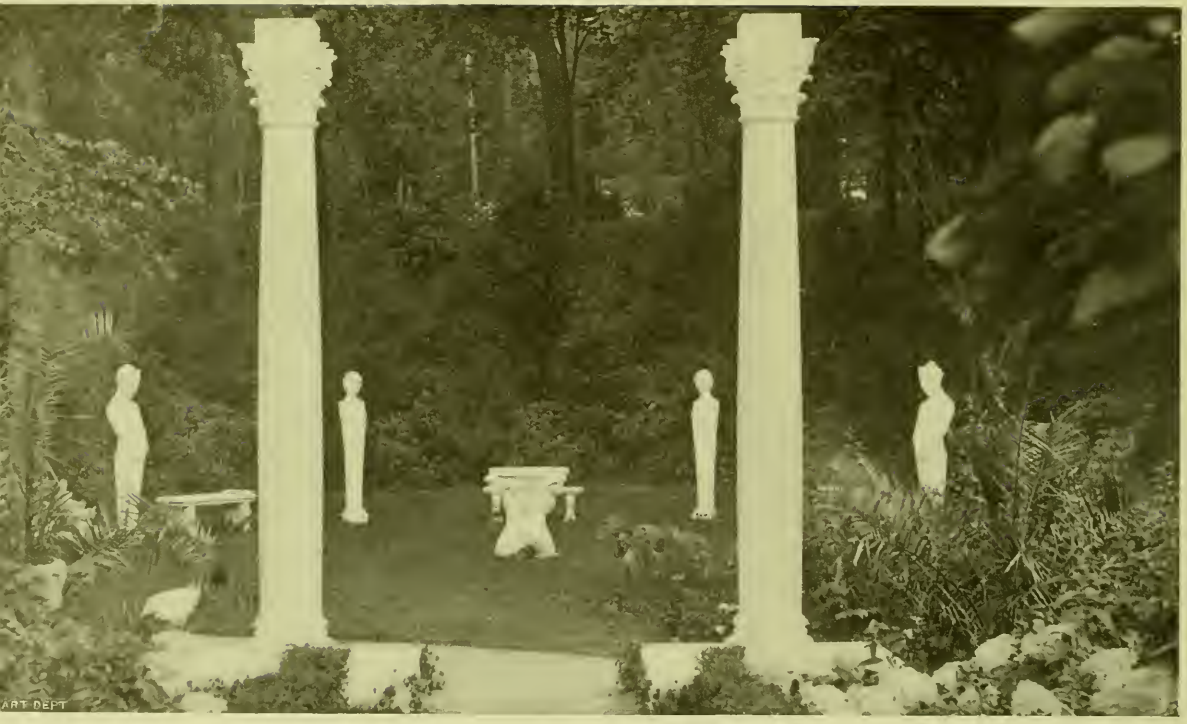
The Saratoga Association, The Start.

A Rousing Finish at the Saratoga Race Track.



The Saratoga Association's Field Stand.

Copyright
C. L. Lucas



The Corinthian Columns and Sun Dial in Canfield's Garden.

The Italian Garden in the Canfield Park.

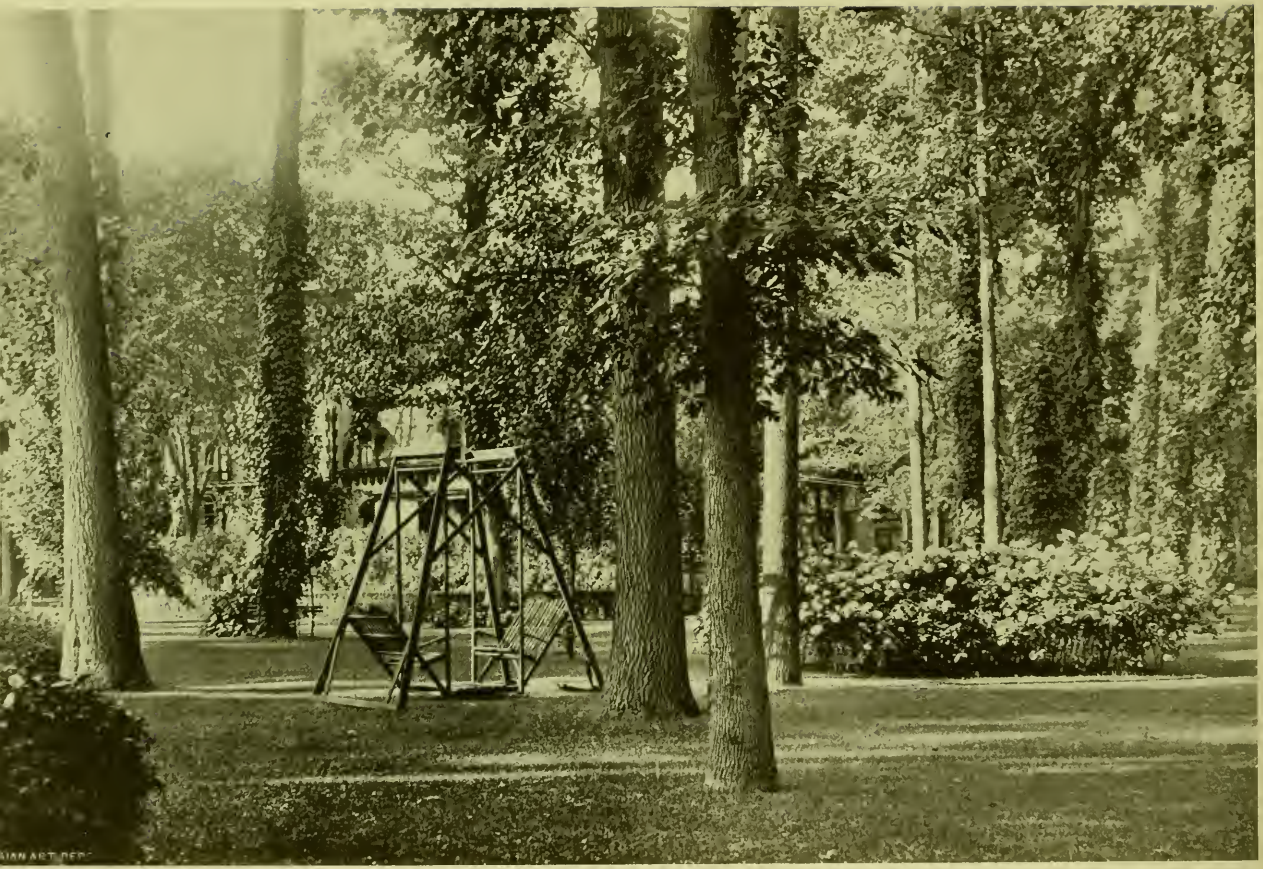
One of the Canfield Dining Hall Windows.

The Manhattan Club Artistic Entrance.

The Rear View of "Inniscara."

The Front View of "Inniscara"—Chauncey Olcott's Home.

The Irish Garden View, or "Inniscarra."



The Lawn, the magnificent Nolan Home on Circular Street.

"Stoneleigh," the Palatial Home of D. W. Mabee.

"Putnam Place," Overlooking the Greenfield Hills.

The Mingay Cottage on Lake Avenue.

Gage Home on North Broadway.

The Jackson Home on South Broadway.

"Bonnie Brook" the Estate of George A. Saportas.

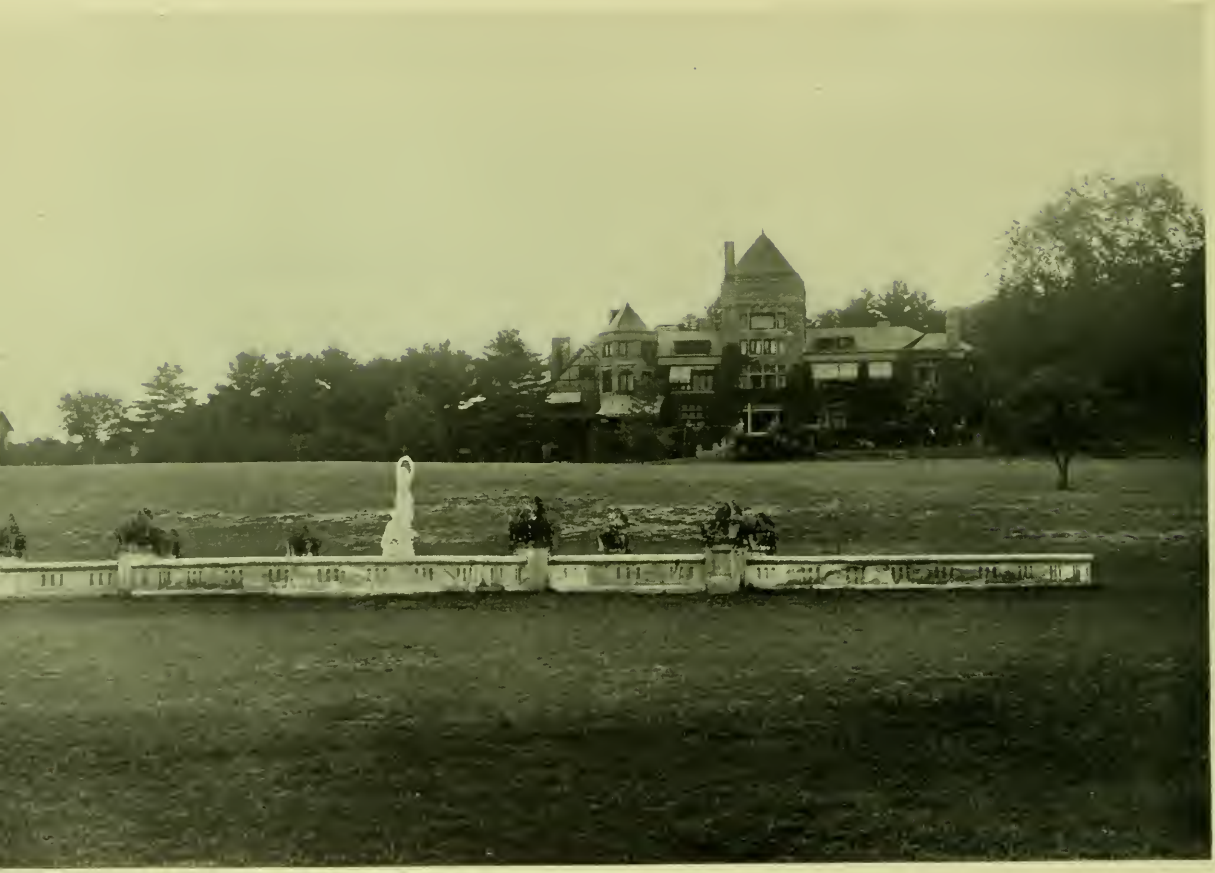
The Gilson Cottage on Lake Avenue.

The Lawton Cottage opposite Woodlawn Park.

The Wheelock Cottage on Union Avenue.

The Levengston Home on Circular Street.

The Von Stade Summer Home.



"Yaddo," the Magnificent Estate of Spencer Trask, on Union Avenue.

The Mackin Cottage.

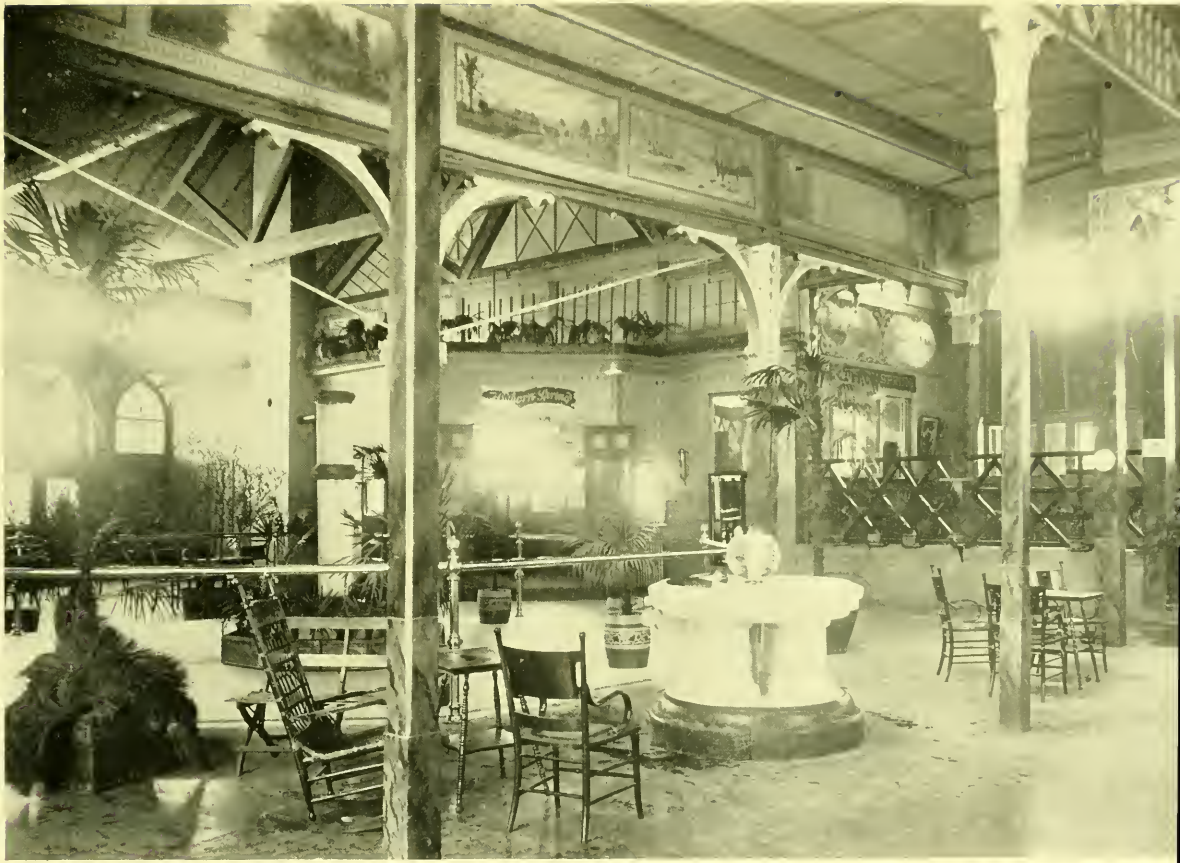
The McCarty Hospital.

Dr. Strong's Sanitarium.

The Saratoga Hospital on Division Street.

The Comstock Hospital on Phila Street.

The Vichy Spring out Ballston Avenue.



The Hathorn Spring and Drinking Parlors.

The Patterson Spring and Drinking Parlors.

The Congress Spring.

The High Rock Spring.

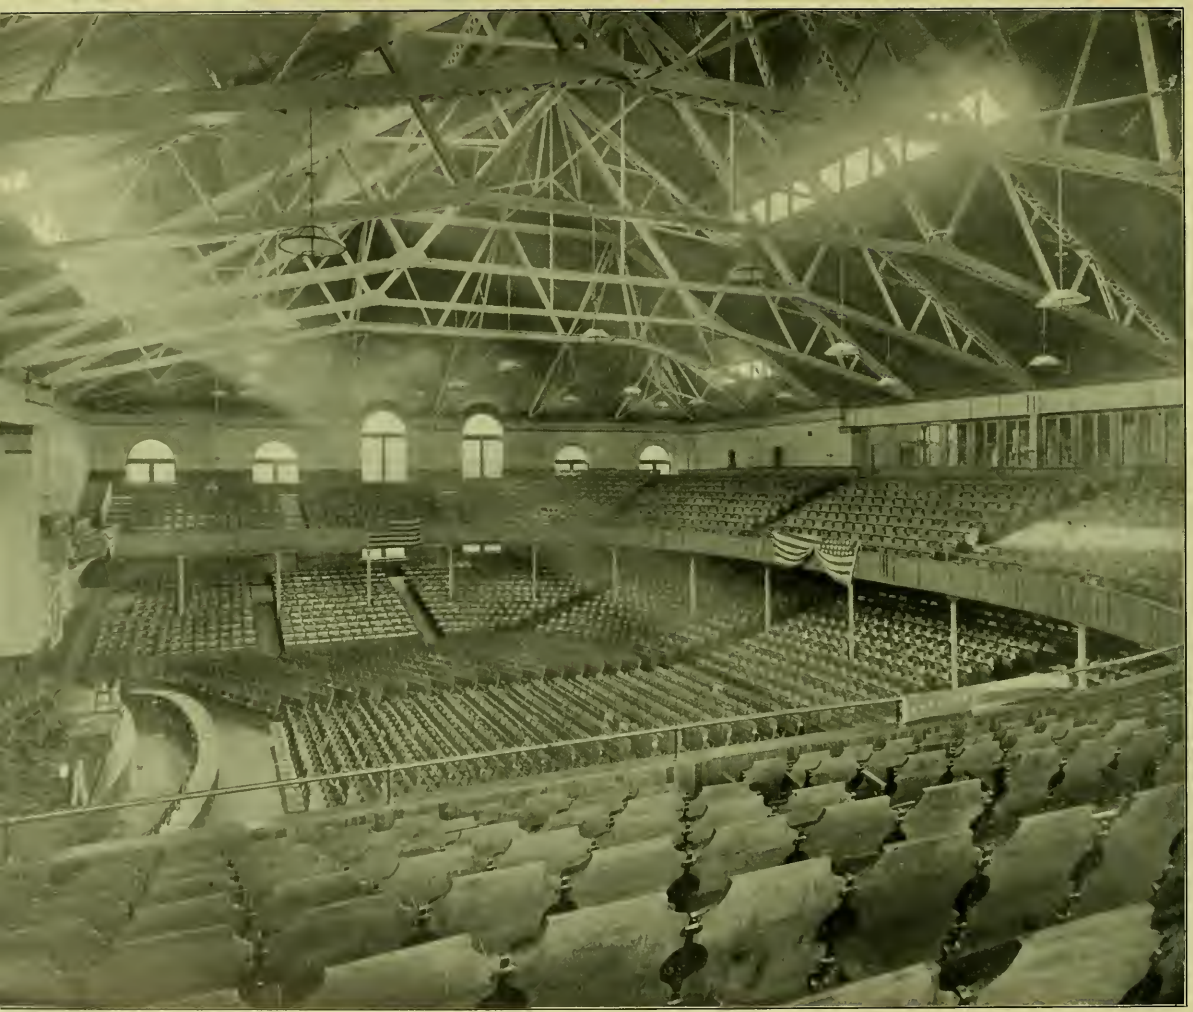
Bethesda Church on Washington Street.

The New England Congregational Church, corner Circular and Ca

Methodist Episcopal Church.

St. Peter's Church on South Broadway.

The Exterior of Convention Hall.

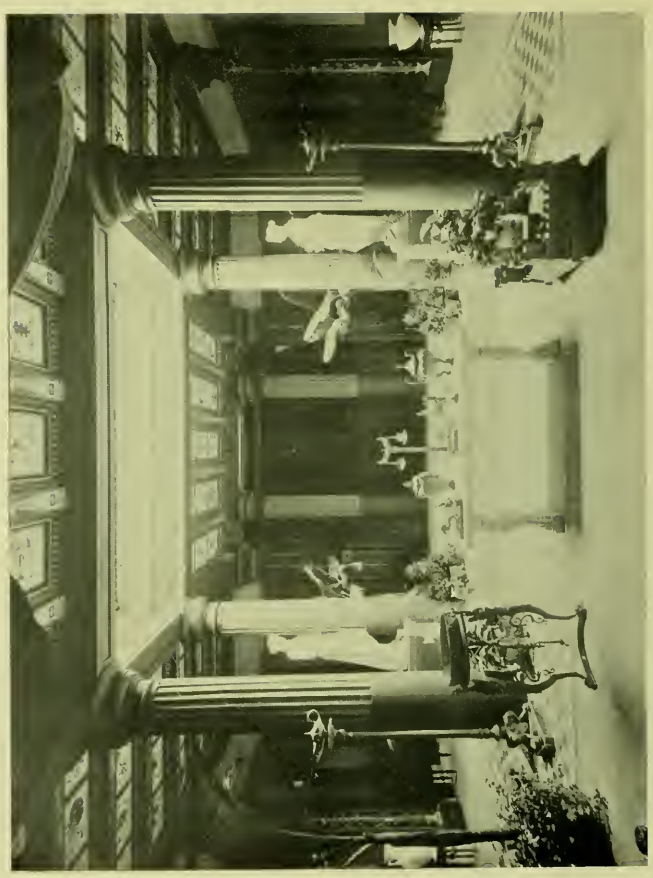


The Interior of Convention Hall, Seating 5,000 people.

The State Armory on Lake Avenue.

The Union Free School No. 2.

The Town Hall.



The Pompeian House on South Broadway—An Exact Reproduction of a Roman House

The D. & H. Depot.

The Young Women's Industrial Club on Regent Street.

The Saratoga Fire House.

Lawn Tennis at the Golf Links.

Scene in Congress Spring Park.

Saratoga Lake a Fine Four Mile Drive Out Union Avenue

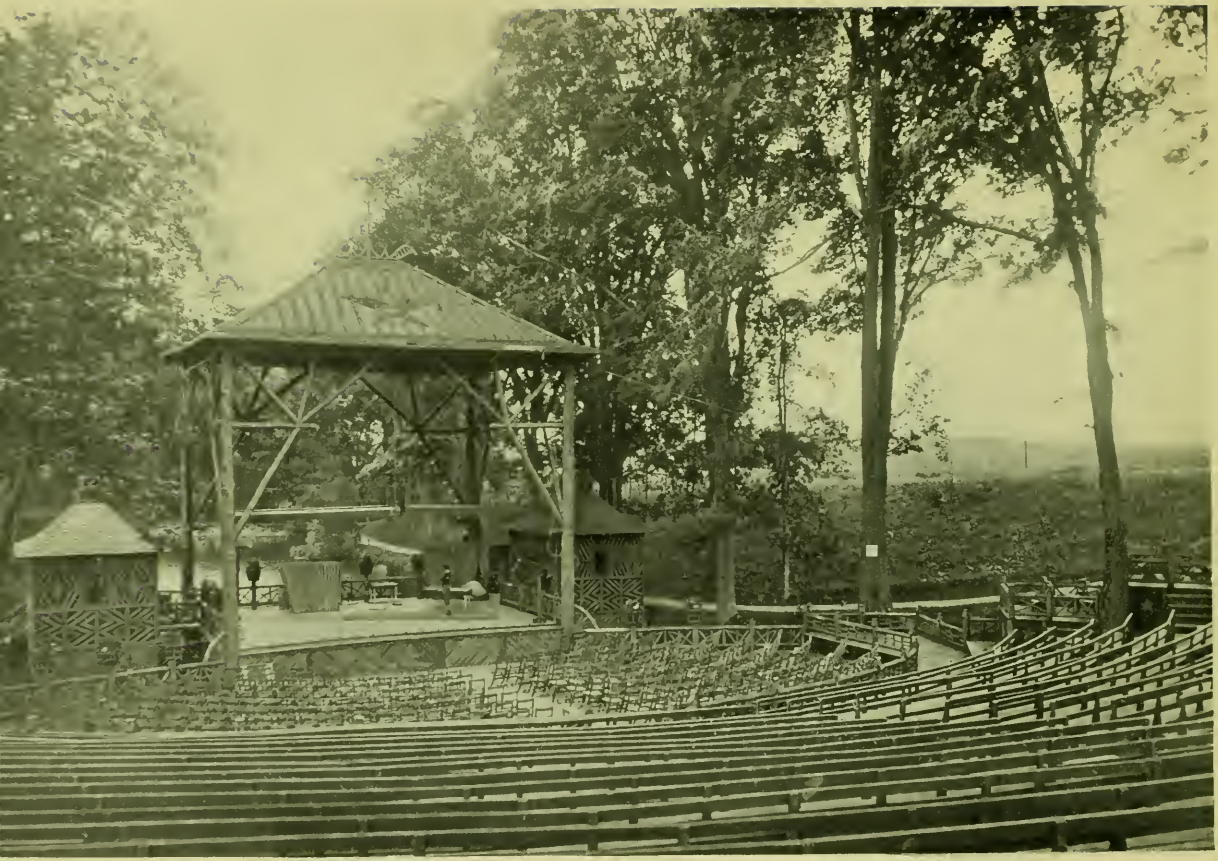
The Speedway, on Extension of Fifth Avenue, for Trotting Horses.

The Elks Club House on Woodlawn Ave

The Saratoga Club.

The Golf Club House out Church Street.

Belmont's Polo Ponies and Stable.



The Kaydeross Park Open Air Theatre.

LIBRARY OF CONGRESS
0 014 224 429 9